

URBAN TRANSFORMATION & THE PANDEMIC: SHIFTING MOBILITY IN CITIES

Urban Economy Forum 2020

October 6th, 2020

Shauna Brail, University of Toronto

shauna.brail@utoronto.ca

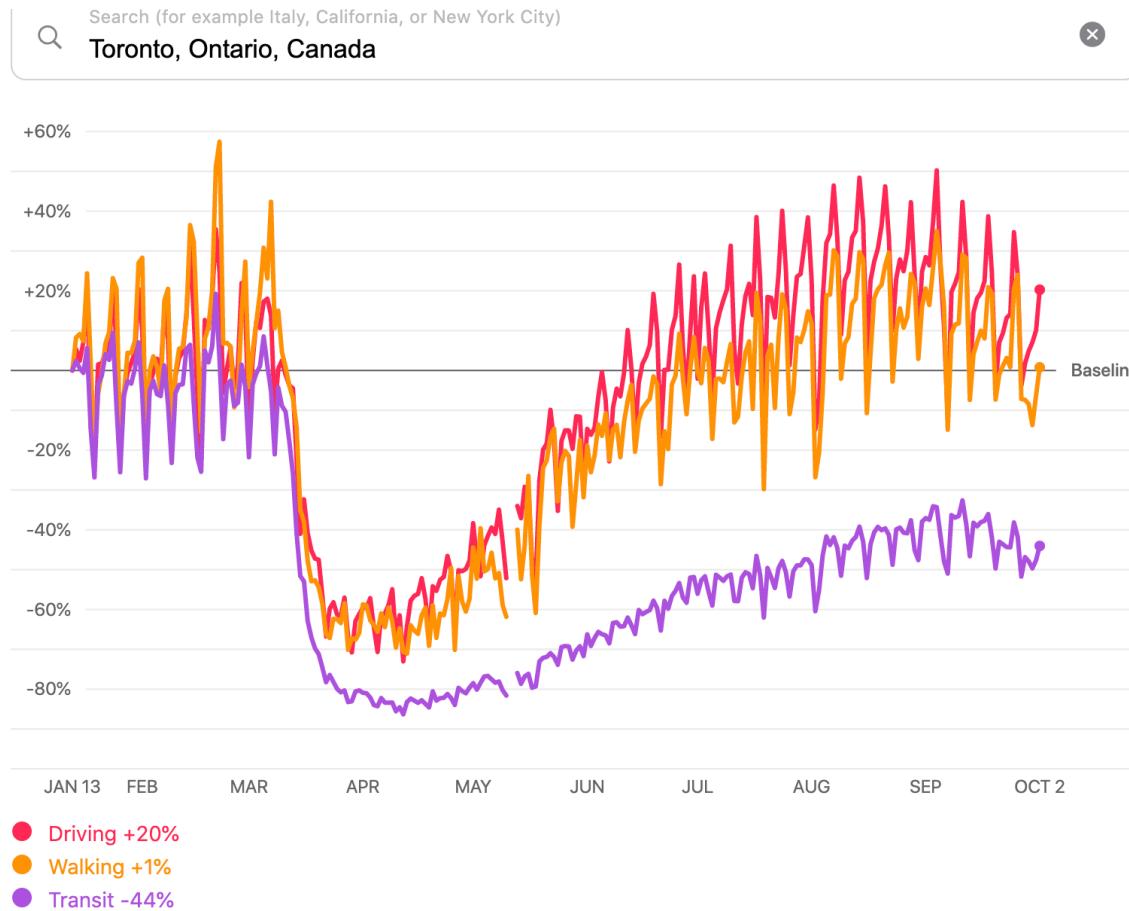

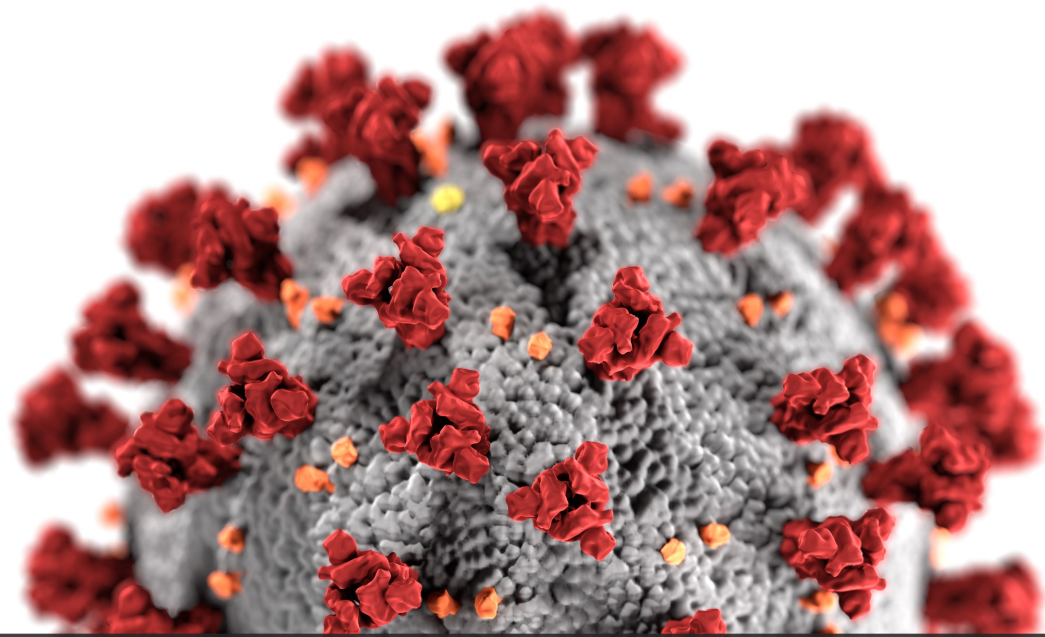

@shaunabrail

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

MOBILITY SHIFT

PUBLIC HEALTH CRISIS

URBAN CRISIS

The background is a complex collage of torn paper, fabric, and other materials. The words "change climate change" are printed in a serif font on several pieces of paper, some of which are torn or layered. A small illustration of a polar bear is visible on a piece of light blue fabric. The overall aesthetic is gritty and urgent, reflecting the theme of the text.

CLIMATE CRISIS

An aerial photograph of a city street at dusk. A large mural is painted on the pavement, reading 'LA VIE DES NOIR.E.S COMPTTE' in large, bold letters. The word 'COMPTTE' is rendered in a rainbow color palette. Below the main text, the hashtag '#BLACKLIVESMATTER' is written in a smaller font. The street is flanked by buildings, and there are some trees and streetlights visible. The overall scene is a mix of urban architecture and social activism.

LA VIE DES NOIR.E.S COMPTTE
#BLACKLIVESMATTER

EQUITY CRISIS

WHICH FUTURE?

CITIES ADAPT

MOBILITY RESHAPED

RAPID RESPONSE ➡
PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT

